

REDESIGN

CENTER FOR SCHOOL ACTIONS

Powered by TEA

What is a Redesign Action?

A Redesign Action supports a school leader to develop and implement a whole-school model that meets the community's needs. The campus may keep the same leader, staff, and students, but substantially changes instructional, staffing, scheduling, and professional development practices to improve student outcomes. The specifics of a Redesign Action plan should vary based on student outcome data, campus and community needs, and district characteristics.

"We feel we have the right team in place, but the campus must change the way it does business."

Consider Redesign If:

- A campus has chronic underperformance, but low turnover among a staff eager to learn and grow.
- Families want a different type of school model.

Why Redesign a Struggling Campus?

- Boost academic performance through High-Quality Instructional Materials, extended day or year, and accelerated instruction tailored to student needs.
- Create a holistic and nurturing learning environment through enhanced support services such as counseling, tutoring, and extracurricular activities.
- Promote transparent accountability by setting clear goals, benchmarks, and formative assessments.
